THREE POWER MEETING

Communique Issued

A FIVE POWER CONFERENCE SHOULD RESULT

London, July 23.

At the end of to-day's three power meeting in London the following communique was issued. "Representatives of France, Belgium and United Kingdom mindful of the arrangement of March 19 of the proposals of the German Chancellor of March 31 and of those of the French Government of April 8 have arrived at the following conclusions:

Firstly, the main purpose to which the efforts of all the European nations must be directed is to consolidate peace by means of a general settlement. Secondly, such settlement can only be achieved by the free co-operation of all powers concerned and nothing would be more fatal to the hopes of such a settlement than the division apparent or real of Europe into opposing blocs.

Thirdly, the three Governments accordingly consider that steps should be taken to arrange a meeting of the five Locarno powers as soon as such a meeting can conveniently be held. The first business to be undertaken should be their opinion be to negotiate a new agreement to take place of the Rhine Pact of Locarno and to resolve through the collaboration of all concerned the situation created by the German initiative of March 7.

Fourthly, the three Governments accordingly propose to enter into a communication with the German and Italian Governments with a view to obtaining their participation in the meeting thus proposed.

Fifthly, if progress can be made at this meeting other matters affecting European peace will necessarily come under discussion. In such circumstances it would be natural to look forward to widening of the area of discussion in such manner as to facilitate with collaboration of other interested powers a settlement of those problems, the solution of which is essential to the peace of Europe—

IN A SINCERE SPIRIT

COMMUNICATION TO BE ADDRESSED TO GERMANY & ITALY

London, July 23.

The conversations between Belgian, French and British Delegations which lasted for two hours this morning were resumed at 10 Downing Street this afternoon when the French Premier, M. Leon Blum, who arrived by air during the forenoon assumed the leadership of the French delegation.

The afternoon meeting lasted for over two hours and in British circles warmest tributes are paid to the spirit of sincere collaboration in which the French and Belgian Ministers met their British colleagues and joined wholeheartedly in the new attempt to reach with free collaboration of all an enduring European settlement.

Before the delegates dispersed arrangements were made for communication by their diplomatic representatives in Berlin and Rome to the German and Italian Governments of their conclusions, together with the expression of hope that those Governments would accept an invitation to the five power meeting—

REASSURING NEWS

London, July 23.

Additional measures for the safety of British visitors in view of the continued disturbed situation in Spain are being taken. Reassuring reports regarding tourists have been received from a number of centres to-day, while in other cases arrangements have been made for the evacuation of British and other nationals—

MEMBERS SUSPENDED

AT ALL NIGHT SITTING

London, July 23.

The usual good natured chat provided a number of humorous incidents to lighten the night's proceedings though tempers became frayed at times—Labour Members, in particular, resenting the refusal of the Government spokesmen to accept their version of hardships which they alleged the regulations would inflict. Parliamentary correspondence describe the speeches as being of unusually high standard for an all night debate.

The Labour Minister, Mr. Ernest Brown never deserted his post and the Dominions Secretary supported him throughout. As the afternoon wore on, the effects of tiredness of the members became apparent and during Sir John Simon's speech, the Speaker was compelled to suspend session for a short time to secure restoration of order. At the resumption of business three members were suspended and withdrew from the House—

SCALES NOT OPPOSED

The Unemployment Debate

London, July 23.

Sir John Simon replying for the Government in the unemployment debate this afternoon said the criticism of the Opposition had been concentrated on household means test but to two out of every three persons who would be affected the means test was quite irrelevant, since they had resources. With regard to the scales themselves the changes made in the new regulations numbered seven altogether. Every change was in the direction of improving the position of the applicant. The scales themselves had attracted very little attention in the debate and the reason he suggested was that the Opposition realised the reasonable and sensible people would not be prepared to oppose them—

STILL GOING ON

London, July 23.

The House of Commons was still in session at three o'clock this afternoon after the allnight sitting during which the debate on unemployment assistance regulations was continued. There were no answers to questions to-day, as under the House's rules, yesterday's business goes on. If the debate closes at 11 o'clock to-night the House of Commons will have been continuously in session for over 32 hours—

REPENTANCE AT LAST

GORKY'S PERSECUTORS

London, June 30.

I learn that before Gorky's cremation his brain was preserved, and bronze casts were taken of his hands, writes a correspondent. Gorky died of pneumonia, following tuberculosis. The origin of the tuberculosis is a more dramatic story than any that Gorky ever wrote.

Forty years ago he came, as a tramp, to a little village in the Nijni-Novgorod Government. He saw a crowd of peasants round a cart. Attached by her hair to the cart was a woman. She was being dragged through the village.

A VILLAGER'S REPENTANCE
The punishment was the recognised one for a woman taken in adultery. Gorky's humanitarian feelings were stirred. He ordered the peasants to stop. When they refused, he used his fists.

The villagers attacked him and left him senseless on the ground. One of his lungs was badly bruised. Tuberculosis set in. For years he had lived with one lung. When he died the other day, the villagers hired an airplane, and sent a deputation headed by two eye-witnesses of the incident of 40 years before to make an act of repentance at his bier.

ENGINEERING AND BUILDING

INDUSTRIAL PROJECTS IN THE PHILIPPINES

Hydro-Electric Power And Cotton Textiles

The early execution of some of the industrialization projects of the government now pending consideration by the national economic council was strongly recommended to the council at a meeting held recently by its chairman, Secretary of Finance Antonio de las Alas. The secretary especially emphasized the need of taking prompt action on such projects as, hydro-electric power development, manufacture of cotton textiles and the preservation of meat and fruits.

The secretary of finance declared in a lengthy memorandum to the national economic council that early action is deemed important in view of the urgency of the need and the abundance of material to work on. He urged prompt consideration of such projects as the harnessing of the numerous streams in Luzon, naming especially the Agno in Pangasinan, the Linao in Rizal and the Agus Kanan rivers on the Pacific ocean side of the Sierra Madre in Tayabas.

ACT ON ONE PROJECT

The secretary also pointed out the practicability of installing a P1,000,000 spinning mill of 15,000 spindles capable of producing all the cotton yarn which the country might need for its home weavers. He likewise pointed out the importance of developing the abaca industry in Albay, declaring that the province is in possession of a number of streams which could furnish all the electric power which the industry might need.

The council acted favourably on only one of the recommendations of the secretary, that on development of hydroelectric power plants but preferred to wait for the result of a more detailed study for some of the projects submitted by him. J. M. Elizalde, chairman of the committee on industries, was asked to make a study and submit report on the advisability of proceeding with plans to manufacture cotton yarn and the packing of meat, fruits and vegetable products.

SURVEY AUTHORIZED

The council, moreover, only authorized the taking of a thorough survey of the potentialities of Philippine streams approving the following resolution:

"In the consideration of the development of new industries and the improvement of those already established so as to place them on an economic basis sufficient to survive adverse conditions even after our independence has been granted, the National Economic Council considers imperative the necessity of cheap motive power, and taking into account the existence in the Philippines of several potential sources of water power. It is the sense of the Council that a thorough and complete survey be made of such resources and possibilities with a view to the ultimate nationalization of all available water power for the establishment of hydro-electric plants."

ANGAT RIVER STUDIED

Preliminary surveys of water power sources near Manila indicate the possibility of developing cheap water power. The erection of a hydro-electric plant will require a great deal of preliminary work since desirable sites for development have first to be investigated and thoroughly surveyed. For some time the government has been studying the possibilities of the Angat River project. We have a ten-year record of the stream flow of the Angat River, and a few years observation of the stream flow at the proposed dam site. It is estimated that this project can make available over 30,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy. Still our engineers feel that they need, at least, one more year of continuous observation and study before it would be safe to prepare the detailed plans of the proposed hydro-electric plant. Another possible development near Manila is in the Linao River in Rizal and the Agus Kanan Rivers on the opposite side of the Sierra Madre in Infanta, which may give even much more than the Angat project.

"The National Economic Council should recommend now the immediate study and establishment of hydro-electric plants in strategic points of the Philippines."

"Food Resources.—In the case of meat products immediate development may be along the establishment of moderate sized meat packing plants, which should include food preservation equipment. Certain sections of the country already have available raw material. With the establishment of these plants, vegetable preservation may subsequently be undertaken, as the production of the raw materials is taken up by the farmers in the neighbourhood. The problem of making the country as self-sufficient in food supplies as possible, should be paramount in plans for the economic development of the country. It is also essential from the standpoint of improving the vitality of our people and developing a sturdy race, and especially in connection with our National Defense.

TEXTILE

"The proposed Water Power Development will enable the government to help these home industries. In the case of the textile home industry, we can help it along with the establishment of a spinning plant to make the yarn for the home weavers. It is estimated that a million-peso spinning mill consisting of some fifteen thousand spindles, would produce practically all the yarn needed by the home weavers. As soon as it is found possible to erect hydro-electric plants that can supply current to the home weavers, the mechanization of looms along the line of development in Japan should be undertaken.

"We can start the spinning of cotton to manufacture yarn for the weavers of the various provinces. Yarn imported for that purpose yearly is worth more than one million pesos. The cotton we can import for the time being until local production becomes well established.

"The industrialization of Abaca in the Bicol region along similar lines could also be taken up. There are streams in Albay that could be developed for hydro-electric power plants to supply the current for the home industries. The government has shown the possibilities of developing cloth from spun abaca that has the consistency of linen that would be suitable for tropical wear."

NEW BRIDGE IN PHILIPPINES

To Cost P140,000

The construction of a P140,000 concrete-steel bridge over the Pasig river at Santa Ana connecting Calle Panaderos with Calle Felix Roxas, was approved recently at a meeting of the board of directors, Metropolitan Water District. The meeting was held at the office of Mayor Juan Posadas, acting chairman of the board.

Work is expected to start sometime in September soon after the completion of plans. Mayor Posadas stated. According to an agreement reached recently P70,000 will be appropriated from the revolving fund of the bureau of public works, and the other half will come from the Metropolitan Water District.

The bridge which will be a two-way affair will also be used to carry two water mains, each of which is 24 inches in diameter. It was originally planned to construct a suspension bridge, but after studying the project it was decided to build a concrete-steel bridge. According to officials of the public works, a permanent bridge will be more economical in the long run.

The completion of the bridge will directly connect Mandaluyong with Santa Ana district and will greatly relieve traffic congestion. The idea of constructing a bridge in Santa Ana was first conceived when the 32-inch water main in the Pasig river broke due to swift water currents. It was pointed out that unless the water supply of Manila's southern district is supplemented with additional pipe lines, there will always be a danger of water shortage in case of a leak in the water main under the Pasig river. It was principally for this reason that the construction of the bridge was decided upon.

The construction of the bridge will be under the joint supervision of the city government and the bureau of public works. It was indicated.

SHANGHAI INDUSTRY MISHAPS TOTAL 175

One hundred and seventy-five industrial and occupational accidents were reported to the Shanghai Municipal Council during June. Of these eleven were fatal. The causes of 165 are known with sufficient accuracy. Ten women were involved. The causes of 106 were investigated and instruction in preventive measures was given.

Classified according to industries, 55, six fatal, took place in the machinery and metal products trade; 13, one fatal, on buildings under construction; 12, one fatal, in chemical trades; 17, two fatal, in textile trades. Forty accidents were associated with machinery moved by mechanical power; six none had fatal consequences. Sixteen persons were injured in fires, five fatally. Seven received injuries from electrical causes, one fatally. Seventeen were injured through falls, three fatally; and 33 were hurt by falling objects, though not fatally.

A worker received burns from which he died when he attempted to pour alcohol from a partially empty five-gallon tin on to a small stove. The presence of an air-alcohol mixture in the tin, ignited by fire, caused an explosion which burst the tin and inflicted severe and subsequently fatal burns on the worker. Two other workers were severely burned when alcohol was being heated over a charcoal burner preparatory to being used with essential oils to form a mixture for spraying and perfuming tobacco.

A woman worker in a textile mill was injured on the head by a flying shuttle. Four such accidents have occurred within the past two months. Managements of the factories concerned have been advised as to preventive steps.

During reconditioning of a flour mill the transmission machinery was being subject to complete overhaul with replacement and additions. During a test run a badly welded bracket adjacent to the main driving pulley broke, thus bringing down some thirty feet of shafting and pulleys. Fortunately only one person was injured though but a few moments before there were several workmen in the room.

One apprentice had one arm crushed so that it had to be amputated, and the other arm fractured when his apron caught in a fast-running shafting from a motor placed low near a buffing machine. In his effort to free himself both his arms became caught in the belt.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

Subject:—"Truth."

"The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, July 26 will be:—"Truth"

The Golden Text will be: "God shall send forth his mercy and his truth." (Psalms 57:3).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men: For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." (1 Tim. 2:1-4).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The thunder of Sinai and the Sermon on the Mount are pursuing and will overtake the ages, rebuking in their course all error and proclaiming the kingdom of heaven on earth. Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practised.

Peals that should startle the slumbering thought from its erroneous dream are partially unheeded; but the last trumpet has not sounded, or this would not be so. Marvels, calamities, and sin will much more abound as truth urges upon mortals its resisted claims; but the awful dawning of sin destroys sin, and foreshadows the triumph of truth. God will overturn, until "He come whose right it is." Longevity is increasing and the power of sin diminishing, for the world feels the alternative effect of truth through every pore.

Truth destroys falsity and error, for light and darkness cannot dwell together.

Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the Soul inspired motto, "Slavery is abolished." The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love. What is this supposed power, which opposes itself to God? Whence cometh it? What is it that binds man with iron shackles to sin, sickness, and death? What is it that binds man with iron shackles to sin, sickness, and death? whatever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free. (Page 174, 223, and 224).

CUP OF FORTUNE

SOLD FOR A SONG

Valued At Over
£25,000

London, July 3.

A gold globe cup, which for forty years lay broken and encrusted with dirt in a safe at Althrey Castle, Bridge of Allan, and was "sold for a song" in a Glasgow sale-room, has been discovered to be of great value.

The only comparable cup was bought by the late Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan for $25,000, but the Althrey cup is believed to be worth much more than that.

Mr. Charles R. Beard, the famous antiquary, who identified it, told the "Daily Mirror" last night that it was purchased for less than £200.

"Its present owner is a well-known connoisseur of early silver," he said. "It was a sheer accident that he attended the sale. No sooner had he seen the cup—which several noted Scottish dealers had turned down, as a Victorian hotel decoration—than he phoned through to me in London."

"I asked him to describe it in detail, and on the strength of his description I told him that it was late sixteenth century and worth at least £5,000. Now we know it is worth infinitely more than that."

"Twenty-four hours later he had driven back to London with the cup, and for the past three months I have been doing intensive research before allowing any announcement to be made."

The late owner of Althrey Castle, Mr. Donald Graham, was

INDUSTRIAL CENTRE NEAR DAIREN

Bright Future Ahead

MILLIONS FOR JAPAN

Dairen, July 11.

Until recently a desolate shoreline on the other side of the bay and on clear days visible from Dairen, Kansai-shi to-day is a flourishing industrial centre gracing extensive factory buildings of the Manchuria Chemical Industry Co., a ¥25,000,000 undertaking, and the Manchuria Petroleum Co., which is capitalized at ¥5,000,000. Soon to be added are factory buildings of the Manchuria Soda Manufacturing Co., capitalized at ¥8,000,000. All three are "key" national industries for both Japan and Manchoukuo. A vast water reservoir and a powerful generating plant also have been built.

Then, too, there is a modern pier, 455 metres long, together with a network of railway feeders and minor quays greatly to facilitate the supply of raw materials and the marketing of finished products. Homes for the thousands that man these industries are appearing like magic, and even now represent a community the size of a creditable town.

With good waterfrontage and excellent railway connections, Kansai-shi definitely has the advantage over such inland centres as Mukden. With Manchoukuo-Japan trade steadily mounting, this geographic advantage gives Kansai-shi an immeasurably brighter future than many of the more established industrial cities of Manchoukuo.

The main thing about Kansai-shi is that its reclaimed shorelands are capable of accommodating many other industries variously contemplated both by Japan and Manchoukuo.

SUPPLY OF CHEMICAL PRODUCTS

Very little is publicly known of the Chemical Industry and Petroleum Refinery factories now producing on full-scale.

The chemical factory is said to produce daily 600 tons of ammonia sulphate and lesser amounts of nitrate of ammonia, nitric and sulphuric acids, benzol, tar, creosote, pitch and coke. Working on two 12-hour shifts, it was estimated that the production of the factory for the first year of 300 working days from May 15, 1935 would total more than 160,000 tons of ammonia sulphate alone. Mr. Tatsuo Miyama, chief engineer, declared ammonia imports to Japan and her colonies from Germany and England would be reduced from 100,000 to 200,000 tons annually by virtue of this capacity of his factory, which, he believed, would also be able to stabilize the market price for the product in the Orient.

Twenty-one engineers and technicians came from Germany to install the machinery. The Chemical Industry Co. also bought a German patent for combining liquid gas with ammonia. The apparatus for making liquid gas came from the Pintsch firm of Berlin. The "Blinde firm" of Munich supplied nitrogen separators and the Unde company of Dortmund ammonia combiners. Sulphuric acid is made by Cottrell machines. Most of the other equipment is Japanese.

One year ago when the factory started full-scale operations, it was estimated that it would require 30,000 kilowatts, a daily supply of 8,000 tons of fresh water and 64,800

a collector of pictures, tapestry and plate. He evidently knew that the cup was of exceptional value as he put it away in a safe.

ONLY 3 INCHES HIGH

"His family did not take any interest in his collection and consequently he did not tell them of his find."

"That is how it came about that the cup lay neglected for so many years. When Mr. Graham's eldest son, Major J. D. Graham, decided to sell the family plate, it was included with the other pieces."

The cup, an account of which is described in the July number of the "Connoisseur" is of 22 carat gold and stands 3 in. high.

When the oxidation and dirt were removed, the globe was found to be embossed with a map of the world.

Minute pinholes in the metal, due to extreme age, prove its authenticity.

STAY-IN STRIKERS

INQUIRY BY CIVIL SERVANTS

Sir William Jowitt Consulted

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 27.

The Civil Service Clerical Association has taken the opinion of Sir William Jowitt, K.C., on the right of members of a Civil Service trade union to strike; and has asked, in particular, whether Civil servants may lawfully engage in a "stay-in" strike or concerted "go slow" or "work to rule." Sir William Jowitt's opinion has been received and will be considered by a special committee of the union next Monday. One official of the union said yesterday that "the general effect of the opinion is reassuring with regard to our position in the matter," but he declined to indicate what action the opinion would support. Mr. W. J. Brown, the general secretary of the association, would not confirm this view of the opinion, but said that the opinion was contained in a long document which "raised legal issues of great importance to every worker and employer in the country." He added that it would probably be as historical in the trade union movement as Sir John Simon's opinion on the general strike. A suggestion in an evening newspaper yesterday that "a stay-in" strike in Whitehall over pay and conditions is now a distinct possibility" was described by Mr. Brown as unjustified.

Counsel's opinion has more than theoretical importance. Spokesmen of the union have been hinting that it was sought with reference to possible action to support the union's contention in a matter of pay in "out-stations"—as offices away from London are called—of the War Office, the Admiralty, the Home Office, the Air Ministry, and the Board of Trade. The union says that whether a man is appointed to a London or an out-station post is a matter of accident, but the more fortunate man may ultimately get £100 a year more salary. Negotiations have been going on for some time, without bringing the union satisfaction, and yesterday Mr. Brown, after a meeting of the committee which has charge of the matter, sent a letter to the Treasury, asking for a reply by next Monday.

In this letter Mr. Brown said: "It is now over a week since, on your initiative, the negotiations on the pay of departmental classes were adjourned. Matters cannot remain in suspense, and I should be glad to be informed by Monday next whether the Treasury intend that the negotiations shall be resumed or not."

LARGE OIL REFINERY

Adjoining the chemical plant and linked by the 455-metre S.M.R. pier is the oil refinery of the Manchuria Petroleum Co. It also commenced full-scale operations on May 15, 1935. Although production estimates are unavailable, it is known that the refinery manufactures petrol, kerosene, gas oil, lubricating oil, fuel oil, asphalt and pitch from crude oil. In the main imported from the United States. The success of the Manchoukuo Oil Monopoly largely hinges on the success of this factory.

The soda ash factory is still in the blue-print stage. It was only recently decided that such a plant should be erected at Kansai-shi motivated, according to current reports, by the desire not to be dependent upon any foreign supply of the product for the industries of Japan and Manchoukuo. In 1933, Manchoukuo imported soda ash worth 1,522,000 yuan, when few countries in the world are so blessed with natural supplies of salt. Besides, the waters along the coast of the Kwantung leased Territory are known to be especially briny and lime-stone is abundant in the Dairen area.

In the Mongolian soda lakes, approximately 1,000 metric tons of natural soda are produced annually. The projected factory, however, will be the first attempt in this country at industrial production of soda ash. The present plan is for the new plant initially to produce about 100 metric tons of soda ash daily, later increasing the output. Capitalized at ¥8,000,000, its shareholders are the S.M.R., the Asahi Glass, Chemical Industry and Shoko Glass companies.

SALT PRODUCTION ENTERPRISE
Incidentally, the new Manchuria Salt Industry Company, launched on May 1, as a special Japan-Manchoukuo enterprise, proposes in its first stage programme to produce approximately 300,000 metric tons of salt annually by exploiting more than 8,800 acres of salt fields along the coast of the Gulf of Pohai and improving existing salt fields of 9,555 acres. Most of the salt produced will be exported to Japan. The new company is capitalized at ¥5,000,000, Manchoukuo's investment totalling ¥1,250,000, while the Japanese have invested ¥3,750,000. Operating under the direct supervision of the Manchoukuo Department of Industry, the new company is the forerunner of other Governmental action further uniting the existing salt monopoly system, which, according to reliable sources, may be expected on January 1, 1937.

But to get back to Kansai-shi. Strategically located and regarded of greatest importance to industrial development and to the defence of Japan and Manchoukuo, the fishing hamlet of a few years ago may soon become a momentous factor in the future livelihood of the two nations (N.O.D.N.).

"FURY"

Sylvia Sydney and Spencer Tracy are the brilliant co-stars of "Fury," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture now showing at the King's Theatre.

And in this powerful screen play, directed by Fritz Lang, they give performances that will linger long in your memory!

The narrative, based on an original story by Norman Krasna, has to do with the tragic circumstances that separate two young lovers on the eve of their marriage.

Tracy, as the man, is arrested as a kidnap suspect and apparently burned to death by a furious mob that storms and fires the prison in which he is held.

His life wrecked, and his mind twisted by the horror he has been through, he goes into hiding and contrives to have twenty-two of the mobsters convicted of his murder!

As a hard-hitting indictment of a national shame, "Fury" stands out as one of the fine pictures of the year, for its power lies in its altogether objective approach to

CAPTAIN BLOOD

Daring and debonair Peter Blood, immortalized by the novel of Rafael Sabatini, has been brought to life on the screen by Cosmopolitan productions in "Captain Blood," a mammoth production which comes to the Star Theatre to-day, as a First National release.

The gentleman pirate of fortune is portrayed by Errol Flynn, a young Irishman comparatively new to films, but who won this role, considered one of the most important of the year, over a score of famous actors after a series of screen tests.

Tall, broad-shouldered, handsome, with a dashing and magnetic personality, Flynn has lived something of the life of Peter Blood, not as a pirate, but as the soldier of fortune, for he has sought adventure all over the world.

The leading lady, portraying a beautiful noblewoman who falls in love with the bold pirate, is none other than Olivia de Havilland who leaped to fame over night by her work in the Max Reinhardt production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

In addition to these two there is an all star cast of more than forty principals, headed by Lionel Atwill, Basil Rathbone, Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Henry Stephenson, Robert Barrat, Hobart Cavanaugh, David Torrence and J. Carroll Nash. Several hundred bit players and extras take part in the mammoth scenes.

The story opens during the period when the Duke of Monmouth was leading an abortive rebellion against King James II. Dr. Peter Blood runs afoul of the soldiery and soon thereafter finds himself a slave in the West Indies and later the captain of a pirate ship.

His calm effrontery wins the attention, then the hatred and finally the love of the beautiful young noblewoman. This vigorous young daredevil puts down mutinies and scuttles ships with desperate coolness, saving his warmth for the ardor of his love.

Lionel Atwill has the role of a plantation and slave owner who later becomes the governor of Jamaica; Basil Rathbone is the pirate Levasseur, who, unlike the gentlemanly Blood, is not only cruel but treacherous, and who is eventually slain in a duel by Blood for that treachery; Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Robert Barrat, Frank McGlynn, Sr. and David Torrence are fellow slaves of Blood, who escape with him and form part of his pirate crew.

the subject of mass lawlessness.

In addition to its social value, however, it is tremendous screen fare, acted with unusual skill by the co-stars and a cast that includes such sterling performers as Walter Abel, Bruce Cabot, Edward Ellis, Walter Brennan, George Walcott, Frank Albertson and many others.

See "Fury" you! It is a grand treat in the acting, photographic, directing and story departments—a personal triumph for Fritz Lang, who sends it forth as his first American picture.

DANGEROUS

AT THE QUEEN'S

"Dangerous," starring Bette Davis and Franchot Tone, is the latest screen attraction at the Queen's Theatre, which should draw crowded houses in view of its immense human appeal.

The story centers around Bette Davis as Joyce Heath, a beautiful and brilliant actress, whose ambitions and selfishness leaves a trail of broken hearts and wrecked lives behind her.

Because of her doings she was finally fired from her job and was one day found by Franchot Tone as Don Belows, in a cheap gin mill. How Franchot Tone tried his best to reform her and his infatuation for her is vividly portrayed on the screen.

Finally when Tone proposes marriage she went to her husband, John Eldredge as Gordon Heath and asks him for a divorce which was refused. Through an accident in which Bette Davis was the prime mover, she and her husband are reunited together despite the fact that she has genuinely fallen in love with Tone who incidentally went back to his fiancée.

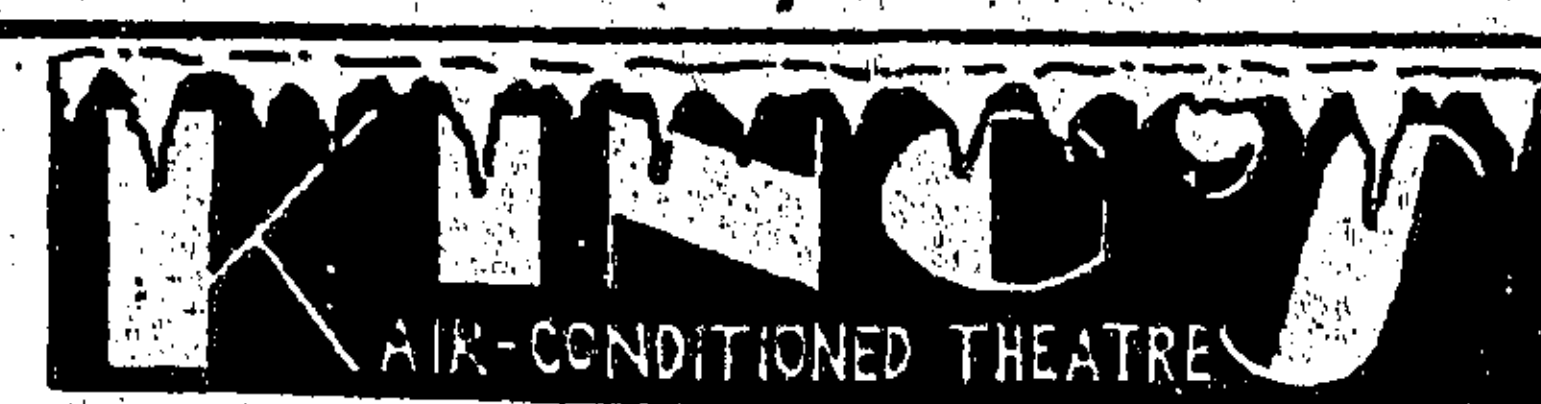

The picture is a moving drama, well acted and above all played understandingly by the cast.

Preceding the main feature is an excellent musical short entitled "Trouble In Toyland," in which the future stars of the silver screen are seen to good advantage in a programme of songs and dances.

Amoroso (arr. Troise). Grand-mamma's Spinet. (Raviers). Solo per te, Lucia (Bixio). Fex (Mascheroni).

POSSESSION OF HEROIN PILLS

Heavy Fine And Imprisonment

RAID ON FLOOR DESCRIBED

Possession of 35,000 heroin pills at No. 209 Fa Yuen Street, second floor, was alleged against two unemployed men at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, when remanded proceedings were heard by Mr. E. Himsforth. The accused were Li Lum, 30, unemployed, and a youth named Li Fun, said to be a brother of the older man.

Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmitt was for the prosecution, whilst Mr. D. McCullum appeared for the defence.

R. O. Grimmitt gave evidence that on July 12 at 10.30 a.m., accompanied by Mr. H. A. Taylor, Monopoly Analyst, and detectives he raided the floor by virtue of a general search warrant. Continuing witness said: I knocked on door and received no reply although I heard voices inside the floor. I rapped on the door again and getting no reply I burst the door in and the only person I could see on the floor at the time was a woman. I rushed through to the back, glancing in the different rooms as I went, and found the back door was locked from the outside. I burst that door open. I came back into the main room of the floor where I found a drying cupboard in the hallway, pill making machine, scales etc., a basket and a trunk. The only furniture was a tressle bed, packing case and a basket containing crockery were packed up.

While I was examining the floor, both defendants wearing singlets, were brought in from the rear door accompanied by Mr. Taylor and detectives.

OCCUPANTS QUESTIONED

First defendant stated he lived there and paid $35 a month in rent, and had resided there for several months.

I asked defendant if all the gear on the floor was his and he said it was. He produced a key to the trunk which contained seven packets of heroin pills which defendant admitted were his.

Second defendant said he lived there for three days. His father was dead.

At this stage, Mr. McCullum objected to the answers made by both defendants going in as evidence.

The Magistrate said that he would note the objection. Cross-examined by Mr. McCullum, witness stated that informers were paid out of Government funds. A reward was paid by Government for all discoveries of non-Government opium.

Mr. McCullum: And Revenue Officers are proportionately rewarded?—They certainly are not! Mr. Taylor then gave evidence of arrest.

Second defendant was discharged because of insufficient evidence.

DEFENDANT'S STORY

Li Lum occupying the witness box testified that the flat in Fa Yuen Street belonged to one Li Lum. Witness was asked to visit the floor to assist in removal preparations when the police arrived. He denied stating that he was the principle tenant, and that he had claimed to have lived there for several months. "I told him (indicating R. O. Grimmitt) that Li Lum was the principle tenant."

When the revenue officers knocked at the door, he and his brother, stated witness, were made to go down the back stairway by Li Lum's wife. They were arrested by the raiding party and brought back to the front room of the flat.

"The property," stated witness, "was not mine. I was not in possession of heroin."

Asked to explain how the door at the back came to be locked from the outside, witness replied that Li Lum's wife must have locked it.

R. O. Grimmitt—I put it to you that you locked the door.—No I did not have the key.

In answer to questions by the prosecution witness could not explain why the woman had "pushed" him down the back stairs. Actually he did not want to go, but he was forced to do so. R. O. Grimmitt, I suggest that she is your wife and that the goods found on the premises belong to you.—No.

WOMAN'S EVIDENCE

Fong Wu, with a little child in her arms, deposed that she pushed the men down the back stairs, as she knew her husband, now

A PUZZLE TO THE POLICE

DOCK THEFTS TRACED

Theft of goods from the boiler shop, Kowloon Docks which had puzzled the dock police for the past three weeks, were finally traced to an odd job painter who was subsequently found to have gained admittance to the docks by a false disc.

The man, Wong Shing, 32, of 42 Wuhu Street, ground floor appeared before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday charged with larceny of engine parts, eccentric strap, valued at $20.00.

Sub-Inspector Kellet informed the court that accused was seen walking in and out of the yard with other workman for the past couple of days, and when stopped on suspicion was found to have concealed the stolen goods in his trousers. He admitted stealing it from the boiler shop which was visited and it was discovered that a rod and four bolts had been dismembered to get the strap. These articles were found on the floor.

It was the general practice, said Sub-Inspector Kellet for the dock hands to place a disc in a box on entering the works, and to remove it on leaving, and accused had used a false one in this connection.

Wong was additionally charged with being a returned banished, having been deported from the Colony on February 12 last year for ten years.

He pleaded that he had returned to look for employment.

Relating accused's record, the Magistrate said that the accused had served three months last year for theft and six months in 1934 for a similar offence.

A total of seven months' imprisonment was imposed on the two charges.

WOLFRAM ORE

Theft of Wolfram ore from No. 21 Nan Chang Street, Shamshuipo by two unemployed men, was related at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Detective Sergeant Forrest told Mr. Macfadyen that the accused Sze To Fat and Sze To Nam were discovered by a Chinese detective helping themselves to the ore by removing a board from a wooden partition separating the shop from a stairway. Altogether 23 catties had been taken, when they were interrupted.

Some glue and a bottle of qulex drying blanco were found near the accused and it was apparently their intention to replace the board with glue and paint it white again. Sentences of three months' hard labour on each, were imposed.

A KOWLOON EYESORE

When the boulevard scheme was planned for Chatham Road, thus transforming an ugly strip of land into a thing to be admired, Kowloon residents were more than thankful. But now abuse is being made of the benches and it is high time the authorities did something to curb the nuisance. More often than not in the evening, when there is still light, Chinese of the coolie class are to be seen, some naked from the waist up, and their feet up on the seats—a thorough eyesore to residents and passers-by. Surely a watchman could be put on duty to maintain order.

out of the Colony, was a habitual addict of heroin. She herself locked the back door.

Cross examined, by the prosecution, witness was emphatic that she herself locked the door.

R. O. Grimmitt: Supposing I tell you that Mr. Taylor found the key in the lock on the outside.—Witness replied vaguely that the key must have been thrown outside.

Witness in evidence had testified that she herself gave the key to the trunk to R. O. Grimmitt. When cross-examined on this point, witness changed her story and said that it was taken by "the police" from the trunk.

First defendant was fined $1,500 or three months. An additional term of six months was also imposed without the option. The Magistrate ruled that the prosecution had proved that the key to the truck was in defendant's possession and that therefore defendant knew about the existence of the pills.

TEST CARRIED OUT

PO PU LOTTERY CHARGE

Smart Police work to vindicate themselves of a charge made by a man arrested for the possession of Po Pui lottery tickets that they "planted" the incriminating evidence on his person, was disclosed at the Central Court yesterday before Mr. Burgess.

The case was first heard on Thursday, when Kwong Kin, 34, a shopkeeper, was charged with the possession of 119 po piu tickets at No. 9, Po Hing Fong, on July 21.

Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ was for the defence. Sub-Inspector Kirby for the police said that the tickets were found on a shelf in the defendant's house. Defendant said that they were found on his person in his lower right hand jacket pocket.

When the jacket was produced there was no right hand pocket. The defendant said that it must have been taken off.

The case was then remanded for 24 hours to take off the left hand pocket and compare the stitch marks.

The jacket was again produced in court yesterday, minus the left hand pocket. The stitch marks were compared and His Worship remarked that the stitch marks of the recently removed left hand pocket were clearly visible. On the right were no marks at all. That indicated that the pocket had either not been there or it had been removed a long time ago.

The defence crumbled and the defendant was convicted, and was fined $200 or three months.

FIGHT OVER MONEY

CHOPPER ATTACK

Li Sum, 21, a bricklayer, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday with assaulting Chan Sin, 29, a stonebreaker, causing grievous bodily harm at the site of the Queen Mary Hospital on July 2.

Detective Sergeant Riddell stated that at 8.30 p.m. on July 2, the complainant went to the Queen Mary Hospital site to gamble and there won $14.90 from Wan Fong, who was playing in partnership with the defendant. Not having the money on him at the time, Wan Fong asked the defendant and the complainant to go to a nearby match to get the money. On entering the match, the defendant took a chopper and struck the complainant twice in the back. The complainant was in the hospital for one week.

Sergeant Riddell added that there had been quite a lot of gambling going on at the site but the people were hard to catch. There had been quite a number of fights with choppers over debts. There were six last month.

Defendant was ordered to pay $25 amends or one month. He was also sentenced to three months.

Around the Courts

PULLEY FROM PEAK TRAM

Exhibiting a record of 15 previous convictions, Ng Lun, 37, was convicted before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court of the theft of a pulley from the Peak Tramway, and was sentenced to 4 months' hard labour with two years' Police supervision.

Sergeant Hill said that the defendant removed the pulley from the track and was seen by a constable carrying it.

DANGEROUS DRIVING

Chan Po, driver of car No. 1298, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday of dangerous driving on July 11 in Caine Road at the junction with Castle Road.

Traffic Sergeant Youe said that he was proceeding along Caine

Road and when near the junction of Caine Road and Castle Road the defendant shot out with his car in such a manner that 'Sergt. Youe had to give way, though he had the right of way. Defendant was fined $25.

ANOTHER CASE

A fine of $30 was imposed on Wong Man On, driver of car No. 975, when he appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court charged with dangerous driving near the Hop Yat Church, Caine Road, on June 30.

Traffic Sergeant Youe said that he was travelling along that road when the defendant turned the corner at about 25 m.p.h., swerving over to the wrong side.

RADIO-TELEPHONE CALLS TO COST LESS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, July 1.

The reduced rates for radio-telegrams and radio-telephone calls which start at midnight to-day were launched with due ceremony at the General Post Office this afternoon. Before a large audience the Postmaster General sent a radio-telegram to all British ships at sea and spoke by radio-telephone with Mr. T. G. Miller, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, who replied from New York. The Lord Mayor of London sent a radio-telegram to H.M.S. London in the Mediterranean and conversed with Toronto in the person of Colonel F. H. Deacon, president of the Canadian National Exhibition.

It would all have been an impressive demonstration of man's mastery over the elements but for the fact that the elements chose to answer back. Atmospherics took a hand, and Mr. Miller, speaking from New York, was made to boom and whisper alternately. Colonel Deacon was even more harshly treated. His fraternal greeting to the Lord Mayor arrived as a rasping snarl, which caused the recipient to blench visibly, and the faces of the eminent persons on the platform, who were wearing earphones, were worth watching. The whole affair was like a gentle reminder from nature that though we are clever little people and know a good deal, we don't know everything.

GROWTH OF RADIO COMMUNICATION

This is not to belittle the success of the General Post Office and its American and Canadian allies, not only in cheapening their wireless services but also in extending them so far that, as Mr. Miller said (in a gruff whisper), "already more than 80 per cent of all the telephones on the globe may be interconnected." Elsewhere at almost the same moment the Institute of Export was exchanging

DYNAMITE AND DETONATORS

WOMAN ARRESTED WITH LARGE QUANTITY

A fine of $50 or in default, one month's imprisonment was imposed by Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy on a 52-year-old married woman, Chan Ying for possession of 239 sticks of dynamite and 239 detonators without a licence from the Inspector General of the Police.

Detective Sergeant McPherson prosecuted, and said that Chan was arrested at 2.30 p.m. in Sai Yung Street, Kowloon City, carrying the dangerous goods in two baskets. The Police had made enquiries but were unable to trace the source.

The Magistrate: You think she is carrying it for someone else?

Sergt. McPherson: Yes, definitely, Your Worship.

The woman, he added refused to say anything to the Police.

greetings by telephone with business men in South America, Canada, Australia, and Egypt to demonstrate the value of wireless communications to commerce.

Paid radio-telegrams through British stations alone have grown to five million words a year, and are still increasing. The Queen Mary on her maiden voyage exchanged 48,000 words of paid telegrams with Fortishead radio alone, exclusive of telegrams to American stations and telephone calls to both sides of the Atlantic.

All passenger ships and all cargo ships of over 1,800 tons gross tonnage are now required by law to be equipped with wireless, and small ships must be carried even on a proportion of the lifeboats of large passenger liners. Apart from what the law lays down, nearly a thousand trawlers and other small vessels carry wireless because of its commercial value to them.

NORTH STATION INCIDENT

Case Of Alleged Fugitive

DECISION RESERVED

The final scenes of the extradition proceedings against one Yu Lap-fai alias Li Chi-hon alias Li Shek-yuen, were witnessed in the Central Court yesterday when both counsels addressed His Worship, Mr. W. Schofield. The only witness of yesterday was Lam Chik Yuen, who established the alibi of the defendant that he was in Canton on the day of the alleged attempt on the life of Mr. T. V. Soong in the North Railway Station in Shanghai on July 23, 1931.

Defendant was also facing a charge of the murder of Tang U Lo, Secretary to Mr. Soong, who was killed during the gun battle at the station.

Mr. D. Strellett was conducting the case for the Crown, Mr. Peter H. Sin appearing for the alleged fugitive.

Lam Chik Yuen stated that he remembered seeing the fugitive in Canton at his cousin, Lee Wah's, house. He was staying there in a cubicle. The defendant was there at the Feast of Great Heat, which fell on July 24.

Cross-examined, witness said that he had received a letter from Lee Wah asking him to give evidence at the trial. He denied that he only remembered the defendant because someone had reminded him.

DEFENCE SUBMISSIONS

Mr. Sin then addressed his Worship and said that his client was accused of an attempt to murder Mr. T. V. Soong and the murder of Tang U Lo, in the North Railway Station, which was in the jurisdiction of the Chinese Government. A considerable amount of time had elapsed since and prosecution had called a number of witnesses. Mr. Sin submitted that the prosecution relied only on two of these witnesses, namely the two Police witnesses of the Railway Station, Chui Sam-chung and Luk Yau-tsol. The others were purely formal.

Chui was guarding the Station at the time of the outrage and has come to Hong Kong and given a very clear account of the incidents of the affair of July 23. There were numerous contradictions in that evidence and when compared with that of Luk Yau-tsol there were further discrepancies to be found. By way of substantiation, Mr. Sin said that he was only going to point out the vital discrepancies.

Chui had described that when he entered the Station Hall with Mr. Soong, there were five men around the 2nd pillar on the south side and three around the 3rd. This he further affirmed by saying "Ho (defendant) was directing the operations—he pointed his hand and said to the five men around the 2nd pillar south, 'Fire.' Later on under cross-examination witness said "It is not correct that there were five men at the 2nd pillar. Just when I saw them there were two people by the 2nd pillar."

STORY OF GREAT DETAIL

Mr. Sin went on that the witness gave a story of great detail, so much so that he described the weapon which the defendant was using as an automatic and not a revolver. This though he was some distance away and the action only lasted for about two minutes. When it was realised that the distance from the fugitive was about 130 feet, how could he see clearly, let alone see the type of weapon used? That was either pure guess work or pure imagination.

Was it possible that in such a short time the witness could see so much and so much detail? Besides seeing so much, he could also see the order in which the desperadoes stood up when Mr. Soong entered the station hall. The action took place one year and one day exactly ago, and that the witness could describe with such clearness and detail was too good to be true.

The witness had said that he could tell by the sound the difference between an automatic and a revolver. Mr. Sin submitted that not even a gunner expert could do that, let alone a railway constable who was not used to firing arms.

DISCREPANCIES

Turning to the discrepancies between the evidence of Luk and Chui, Mr. Sin said Luk had endeavoured to support his sergeant, Chui, had testified that on entering the Hall, the men around pillars 2 and 3 had stood up. Luk did not say anything of that sort. He had said that there were men near the 2nd pillar and three were sitting at the 3rd. At the 4th there were none. He had stated that those at the 2nd pillar had got up. It could only be gathered from that that the men around the 3rd pillar were still sitting, and Chui had said that they all got up.

Luk had said that as they approached, the people around the 3rd pillar got up also.

That witness had taken refuge behind the fourth pillar south, that was the next one to which the fugitive was standing and he had had a good look at his face. If anyone had had a good look it was Luk who was thus standing about 17 or 18 feet away, and yet when called upon to identify the fugitive at the Victoria Gaol he had taken fully ten minutes and with the greatest hesitation to pick him out.

It would be seen clearly that Luk did not see the fugitive at the North Station. He might have seen someone else. That being the case he had difficulty in picking him out at the parade.

Luk had given a vivid picture of the movements of the people around pillars 2 and 3. The description of these movements had been so clear but they had contradicted those given by Chui.

EVIDENCE UNRELIABLE

In view of these discrepancies Mr. Sin submitted that the evidence of those witnesses could not be relied on. He further submitted that it was a case of mistaken identity. The defendant was nowhere on the scene and the evidence of the fugitive should be accepted for those two reasons. (1) The fugitive story of being in Canton at the material times especially on July 23, 1931 has been corroborated by an independent witness called by the defence and although this witness had been cross-examined at great length his testimony had remained unshaken; (2) If the fugitive did in fact have anything to do with the assassination and was in fact at the North Station in 1931 and directed operations as stated by the Crown witnesses, would he have had the courage to return to Shanghai in the days of the Sino-Japanese conflict which was in the early part of 1932. He had organised a corps and for his headquarters had used a town some ten li from the North Station.

In a book containing the history of the 19th Route Army the name of the fugitive had appeared and there is no doubt that the fugitive commanded that corps there in 1932. Had the fugitive had anything to do with the attack on Sung it would have been highly dangerous to have been anywhere within the jurisdiction of China where he could have been apprehended.

The fugitive also knew that after his release, when he had been detained for fifteen months, his photograph would have been taken for record. The evidence of Lau Chik-yuen dealing with the year 1931 had been clearly remembered because that was the year his cousin Li Wah came to Canton. If the recollections of that witness are true it was a matter of human impossibility for the fugitive to have been at the North Station on July 23.

GRAVE DOUBTS

Mr. Sin's submission was that there was a great deal of doubt in the evidence of the prosecution and when it was borne in mind that the fugitive had already been detained by the Nanking Government, it was quite possible that his extradition was being sought again for reasons best known to the Chinese Government. Having spent some time with the People's Government of Fukien, which Government is directly opposed to Nanking, there was no doubt that he holds views divergent to those of the Central Government and he is very likely being sought from political motives.

Mr. Sin concluded his address by pointing out that the case for the prosecution raised grave doubts and that their evidence therefore could not be relied upon to extradite the fugitive.

PROSECUTION REPLY

Mr. Strellett then rose to address His worship and said that the defence had taken advantage of the long lapse of time. A considerable amount of detail had been given and it was incredible that so much had been remembered. On the other hand the witnesses were confused on some details. There had been just enough reminders to make their memories safe. It was very significant that when called upon each of the witness had selected a photo out of fifteen.

At the beginning of 1934 a special hunt was started for the fugitive and that was the time when he left the north and came to Hong Kong. This was when he felt he was in great danger.

The next time the fugitive was seen was on March 9 at a parade at the Victoria Gaol, where both men picked out the fugitive and no one else. The main point of the prosecution was that these two men who saw the incident have come to say that they saw the same man now, and everything else became of secondary importance.

Dealing with the alibi of the defence, the witness Lau Chik-yuen when he returned from abroad and heard of the case in Hong Kong concerning Yu Lap-fai, could not connect him with the man he had known before in Canton.

On July 24 he remembered clearly that the fugitive was in Canton, but cannot place T. V. Soong despite the fact that it must have been a subject of discussion. Mr. Strellett submitted that the witness had been the victim of a considerable amount of suggestion particularly concerning one occasion. The other incident that happened at the same period, but was not suggested to him, was vague.

After some slight reference to the book concerning the 19th Route Army and its unreliability Mr. Strellett concluded his address.

A written judgment on the case will be delivered by Mr. Schofield on July 28.

REVENUE STAMP PROSECUTION

Appearing on remand before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday charged with (a) on April 8, last year, using a revenue stamp on a rent receipt which had been previously used, and (b) committing the same offence on April 7, this year, Fun Yuen Fung, 19, a spinster, was remanded for a further week.

Sergt. Whitcroft, of the Treasury Department, was for the prosecution.

Defendant stated that a half-witted sister had "chopped" the stamps while they were lying on the window sill drying after having fallen into a spittoon. The stamps had been kept for future use.

On the question of the writing, defendant said that she had first written in blue pencil but had changed her mind and had gone over the stamp again in ink. Chan Tai, mother of the defendant gave evidence and said that she remembered the stamps being placed on the window sill to dry. The case was remanded for one week.

MAJOR OLYMPIC SENSATION

Woman Aquatic Star Ordered Back

TRAINING RULE BROKEN

(Hong Kong Daily Press) Special

Berlin, July 24. The announcement that the famous woman swimmer and screen star, Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, winner of the 100 metres backstroke at Los Angeles, has been struck off the list of the United States Olympic team by the American Olympic Committee shortly before the liner Manhattan docked at Hamburg, for breaking the training rule in imbibing alcoholic beverages, provided the first major sensation of the Berlin Olympic on Friday morning.

Before deciding on the extreme measure, the President of the Olympic Committee, Avery Brundage, had repeatedly and earnestly warned the aquatic star, who flippantly replied that champagne was a legitimate item of her training diet, and that another Olympic victory was certain for her anyhow. The Olympic Committee's hard-pressed patience ended, however, when on the last day of the journey, Mrs. Holm Jarrett appeared in the ship's bar in a state of intoxication.

Mrs. Jarrett was struck off the team's list, deprived of her Olympic uniform, and informed that she would have to return home on the liner Bremen immediately after the steamer Manhattan reached Hamburg.

A WELCOME PROOF OF DEFENCE PROGRESS

Supplementary Estimates are not ordinarily welcome to the taxpayer. Those issued recently for the Navy, Army and Air Force will be scrutinised only in regard to their adequacy. Their issue now is a welcome admission on the part of the three responsible Departments that they are able to accelerate defence preparations beyond their earlier anticipations, and that the resources in manufacture of the country have proved to be equal to a larger demand.

All these discoveries were to be anticipated once the position was fully examined. It was never believable that a country with the immense productive power of Great Britain, with large numbers of skilled men unemployed in its heavy industries, with building yards and slips going derelict for want of work, and with the capacity for rapid expansion that was proved in the war, was not capable of an effort, immensely beyond that originally envisaged. In asking now for an additional £20,000,000 of money in full confidence that it can be fruitfully spent the Government gives reassurance to the country as to its security.

Satisfaction must be felt that the bulk of the new expenditure—£11,700,000 in all—will be made upon the Air Force, for it is with regard to the comparative weakness of that arm that most anxiety is manifest. The problem before the Air Ministry is different inasmuch as it has to create new sources of manufacture and train large numbers of men in a novel technique, besides providing aerodromes where none existed before. In every one of these essentials such progress has been made that twelve additional squadrons will be added to the overseas units by 1939, and the strength of the R.A.F. is to be swelled by 5,000 men. No difficulty is being experienced in recruiting either for the Navy or the Air Force; it is in the Army Estimates that the regrettable feature appears of "savings" owing to the numbers "being lower than estimated." Both the Admiralty and the Air Ministry report more rapid progress in work already done than was calculated; both are able to express confidence that the full programme can be completed in less time than was assigned to it when the rearmament plans were drawn up. Every month saved is an additional guarantee of national safety.

Although the Navy is asking now for only £1,059,000 extra, this amount follows a previous Supplementary Estimate for over ten millions sterling. Provision is made for 16 additional ships, and for preparation of the material for battleships that cannot be begun this year. Most of this new work must necessarily be done in the distressed areas, bringing to them additional employment and the prospect of restored prosperity. There are other sides of the defence programme—the guarantee of food supplies, the expansion of

BERLIN AND ROME INVITED

THREE-POWER MEETING UNANIMITY

General Settlement Hope In Europe

The diplomatic correspondent of one leading British paper, commenting on the three-power meeting in London, says that "yesterday will be a day memorable for a new approach towards settlement of distracted Europe."

Newspapers here are without exception pleased and impressed at the speed and unanimity with which the three powers agreed to carry out the precise purpose which the British Government had in mind.

Before the communiqué was issued its terms containing an invitation to the German and Italian Governments to join in arranging a meeting of the five Locarno powers was conveyed to Berlin and Rome. All questions of future procedure and time and place of the proposed meeting have been left for settlement between the five powers who will discuss these questions through diplomatic channels.

Considerable confidence is felt in London that both Germany and Italy will respond willingly to the proposal and open a route by which a settlement for Western Europe can be reached if full co-operation of Germany and Italy is forthcoming.

NEW BEGINNING

The "Times" says that yesterday's meeting produced an extremely conciliatory but definite statement of political procedure.

"A new beginning has been made. Those who have not unreasonably been looking back for the last few months have agreed to look forward and Europe should be on the threshold of one more opportunity which may be the last setting of her house in order by peaceful means."

In the "News Chronicle," Mr. Vernon Bartlett, after praising the conciliatory spirit shown by France and Belgium, says that although the communiqué leaves vague the extent to which other powers would eventually be brought into the discussions, he does not believe Eastern European states need fear that negotiation of a new Locarno agreement would leave them to their fate and expresses belief that this initiative means new hope for Europe.

TWO PURPOSES

The "Daily Herald" diplomatic correspondent says the proposal that a five-power conference should have two purposes: firstly, conclusion of a new treaty to replace Locarno, and secondly, preparation of a wider discussion with the intention of getting a general European settlement makes it clear that three Governments are determined to do everything in their power to get a real settlement.

(British Wireless)

COMPLETE AGREEMENT

London, July 23. The three-power conference, attended by British, French and Belgian representatives, to consider problems affecting the Locarno signatories, lasted only twelve hours and is understood to have ended in complete agreement by all sides to the text of a communiqué to be presented jointly to Germany and Italy.

The communiqué will constitute an invitation to Germany and Italy to join the other Locarno powers in conference, and will stress the hope that the invitation the mercantile marine and the protection of the civilian population against aerial attack—which are engaging the attention of the Government. These cannot be regarded as subsidiary, but there is no reason to believe that they are being overlooked. Indeed, the strongest evidence that the defence problem is now being approached as one whole is furnished in the balance preserved in the Supplementary Estimates. From the nation the Government has received an unmistakable mandate which is now being executed with vigour. Once more it is being proved that the country is capable of meeting an emergency when it has roused itself to the task.

CIVIL SERVICE STRIKE THREAT

MR. BROWN'S ATTACK ON MR. CHAMBERLAIN

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, July 1. Mr. W. J. Brown, the secretary of the Civil Service Clerical Association, replied yesterday to Mr. Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons that a Civil servant who took part in a stay-in-strike, or similar action, would render himself liable to instant dismissal. Mr. Brown said the association was satisfied that the legal position of the Civil servant did not differ from that of any other employee. "If and when (he added) strike action is decided upon in the Civil Service the decision will be made with full knowledge of all that is involved."

Continuing, Mr. Brown made a bitter political attack on Mr. Chamberlain, disregarding entirely the Civil Service tradition of non-partisanship. "We entirely agree (he said) that Civil servants are engaged faithfully and conscientiously to discharge their duties. Mr. Chamberlain appears to have overlooked the circumstance that this applies to Treasury officials as well as to humble people. If the Treasury had discharged its duty faithfully it would not have been necessary for Mr. Neville Chamberlain to make his statement to-day. If Mr. Chamberlain, as the head of the Civil Service, had faithfully and conscientiously devoted to the consideration of Service problems one-tenth of the energy he displays in the formulation of Mr. Baldwin's foreign policy for him, again the situation

FOREIGN NATIONALS IN DANGER

Urgent Requests For Naval Assistance

SITUATION SERIOUS AT SAN SEBASTIAN

Sir Henry Chilton Sends Wireless Message

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, July 24. The French Ambassador at Madrid, who together with the whole diplomatic corps accredited to Spain are spending the summer at San Sebastian, on the Atlantic coast, has urgently requested the French Government, according to press reports, to dispatch warships to San Sebastian in order to protect French nationals, whose lives and property are gravely in peril by the civil war in Spain.

The report adds that a concentric march on Madrid by the insurgent army is steadily progressing, and that General Mola's troops, operating north of the capital, are now about 15 kilometres from the latter. The city of Salamanca is said to have been taken by the insurgents, who, reportedly, now control all the roads leading from the Portuguese frontier to Madrid.

Violent fighting is stated to have broken anew at San Sebastian and the roar of guns is distinctly audible from the French frontier. This new outbreak is attributed by "El Faro" to the alleged refusal by the insurgents occupying the town to guarantee the political autonomy of the Basque provinces in the event of the final triumph of the insurgents' forces, whereas the Madrid Government, according to the paper, gave the desired undertaking in the hope of thereby enlisting the sympathies of the Basque population.

REBELS NEAR MADRID

The latest messages here from Hendaye appear to confirm that San Sebastian was recaptured by loyal troops.

A Spanish official, who reached French territory Thursday night, asserts that General Mola's troops are now only about 35 kilometres from Madrid.

The command over the Government troops has passed over from the Minister of War to the Minister of Interior, Pozas. The workers' militia in Madrid have seized numerous palaces of aristocrats.

The owners of radio sets have been warned that they will be punished if they refuse to listen to Government broadcasts.—Transocean News Service

INSURGENT GAINS

Gibraltar, July 24. Greater parts of Spain are now in the hands of the insurgents, according to a report which declares that Madrid, Barcelona, Malaga and Huelva are the only places not in their hands.

It is furthermore stated that the insurgent troops are quite close to Madrid.—Transocean News Service

MESSAGE TO LONDON

London, July 24. The Spanish civil war continues with varying fortunes and extreme bitterness.

The British Ambassador, Sir Henry Chilton, has been unable for some days to communicate with London. He is at San Sebastian and has now managed by means of a French warship and other routes to get through a wireless telegram stating that the position there is very serious and advising the despatch of a British warship, to evacuate British subjects in case of need.

Two British destroyers, the Verity and Veteran, were due to arrive at daybreak.

The United States summer embassy at San Sebastian has made a similar request to its Government.

APOLOGY FOR BOMBING

As a sequel to the strong protest made by the British authorities at Gibraltar against irresponsible bombing of shipping in the straits and warning that a repetition would call forth protective retaliatory action, General Kinderlin, representing General Franco, rebel commander, came to Gibraltar to apologise for the bombing.

There are now over twenty British warships off the coasts of Spain and Morocco watching the interests of British nationals. So far as is known no British subject has suffered serious injury.—British Wireless

REFUGEES POURING IN

London, July 24. News from Spain continues to be contradictory, while Lisbon reports that the rebel troops of General Mola are only fifteen miles from Madrid awaiting reinforcements before attacking the capital. "El Matin" publishes an interview with General Mola indicating he may try to starve out rather than storm Madrid.

Meanwhile refugees from Barcelona are pouring into Marseilles where 1,200 visitors to the People's Olympiad at Barcelona, including four British and eight Americans, who arrived aboard a French steamer are singing revolutionary songs and waving Red flags.

Fifty British residents at Barcelona were brought by a British destroyer and two other British warships are expected to-day with further refugees.—Reuters Bulletin Service

SAN SEBASTIAN FEARS

Washington, July 23. An official despatch from San Sebastian, where British and American Ambassadors to Spain are on holiday, says the former is trying to get through a message requesting the despatch of a warship to this point.

An American despatch recommends the sending of an American vessel immediately, and adds that the situation is dangerous. Government troops, it is stated, hold the greater part of the town, but the situation may grow worse if further rebels arrive or the Red soldiers are not better controlled.

The official despatch from Madrid, concerning the situation at San Sebastian, emanated from Mr. Johnson, Counsellor to the United States Embassy.

The State Department has received a message relayed by a French vessel, expressing fears for the safety of the American Ambassador, Mr. Bowers, marooned with his wife in a private residence outside San Sebastian.—Reuters

AMERICANS IN DANGER

Washington, July 23. The American Embassy at Madrid has cabled that food supplies in the Spanish capital are only sufficient for two days.

The Embassy reports that rebels have killed the guards on the city's reservoirs and the water supply is threatened.

The American Consul at Bilbao has urgently appealed to the State Department to send a warship to evacuate the American women and children in that city as he fears the food shortage will cause looting.—Reuters Bulletin Service

WARSHIP FOR BILBAO

Washington, July 23. Naval authorities are advised that the battleship Oklahoma, with Annapolis cadets in training aboard, is due in Bilbao at midnight to-morrow, in response to the Consul's urgent appeal for the removal of the American women and children from the town, which is virtually in a state of siege.

Premier Leon Blum is being criticised for alleged leanings towards giving military assistance to Spain.

BOMBING PLANES AND GUNS

Paris, July 24. The Spanish Government is making every effort to obtain French help in crushing the rebels according to the local rightist press.

It is stated that two emissaries of the Spanish Government have arrived seeking (on the strength of the French Government's sympathy with the Spanish Government's resistance to Fascists) to buy twenty-five bombing planes, 12,000 aeroplane bombs, and fifteen 75-millimetre field guns.—Reuters Bulletin Service

PRESS WARNING

Paris, July 24. Premier Blum is alleged, by the London correspondent of the "Echo de Paris" to have given instructions immediately after his arrival at the British capital for a three-power conference to supply the Spanish authorities with arms and military planes. The paper, in its editorial, writes that if France should espouse the cause of the Spanish commoners she would be paying the way for the support of the Spanish nationalists by Fascist methods.—Transocean News Service

DESTROYER OPENS FIRE

Tangier, July 23. A British destroyer fired on a rebel Spanish plane to-day. Suspecting that the British liner Gibel Dersa was carrying fuel to loyalist warships here, Spanish rebel aeroplanes dropped two bombs upon her at the entrance of the harbour. Both bombs missed the ship.

EPIDEMIC DANGER

Gibraltar, July 23. A serious epidemic, which it is feared might affect Gibraltar, is thought to be imminent in Lallina by refugees arriving here from that ravaged city.

FOREIGNERS IN SPAIN

Grave Anxiety For Holiday-Makers

SEVERE WARFARE

London, July 24. The Spanish civil war has suddenly acquired international significance. "British Guns Manned at Gibraltar" is a typical London newspaper heading, and denotes the British concern over the bomb-dropping in vicinity of British liners.

Anxiety exists as to the fate of innumerable foreign holiday-makers in Spain, which is accentuated by the well-authenticated reports relating to the severity of the warfare and the shocking death toll. The dramatic diplomatic appeal to Washington to send a warship to San Sebastian, the popular holiday resort which is rumoured to be ablaze after bombardment by a Spanish warship, has added to the weight of apprehension.

Moreover, the British Foreign Office has been unable to make contact with Sir Henry Chilton for several days.

There is bitter controversy in France over reports that the Spanish Government having requested French Air Force assistance, M. Leon Blum, the Leftist Prime Minister decided to despatch four big bombers to Madrid.

Rightist newspapers inveigh against the Government for interfering in the internal affairs of another country, which would prove most embarrassing if the rebels won in the end.

SUMMARY OF SITUATION

As far as can be ascertained at present, the situation can be summed up as follows:

The Government claims to have consolidated its position around Madrid but Gibraltar reports allege that 12,000 Fascists, headed by Senor Jose Antonio, son of the late Senor Primo de Rivera, former Dictator, are approaching the capital where a decisive clash is imminent.

Barcelona is badly shattered, but strongly held by Government forces and is now their headquarters from which plans are being sent into Saragossa to bomb the rebels, which, like most of the north-west, is in the hands of the insurgents.

In the south-east the Government retains Alicante, Murcia and Malaga. In the South-west Seville is apparently still in the hands of the rebels, but a general strike is in progress there.

If the Government is triumphant, the credit will rest with the large numbers of civilians, including women, who everywhere have taken up arms.

Official reports from Madrid remain optimistic.

Senor Manuel Azana, the Leftist leader, in a broadcast address at midnight, said the rebellion was over, but he urged the country to give to the last drop of blood to save the republican regime.—Reuters

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DISCLOSURES

Additional Charges Under Treason Act

President Miklas has signed an amnesty decree which releases several thousands of political prisoners.

AMNESTY IN AUSTRIA

Ten Thousand To Be Released

FUTURE DEFINED

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Vienna, July 24.

A general amnesty was signed by President Miklas on Thursday. It will affect altogether about 10,000 persons sentenced for political offences. No distinction will be made between sentenced and accused of the various political shades. After the releases have been carried out, there will remain in prisons 224 persons who do not come under the amnesty.

Touching scenes took place outside the jails of Vienna. Stein and Karlau on Thursday just after 3 p.m., when the first of the amnestied persons were released.

The question as to what the future holds for the released persons was answered by the Government with the announcement that they will not be reinstated into their former positions, but their relatives who received the so-called widows' pension will continue to receive it, till these people succeed in finding employment.

The question of confiscated fortunes is to receive special attention, particularly, where this punishment destroys the basis of livelihood.—Transocean News Service

London, July 24. The strains of "The Red Flag," unwontedly and probably unprecedentedly, were raised in the House of Commons in the closing stages of the debate on Unemployment Assistance measures when the Conservatives moved closure.

The singing was taken up heartily by the Labour back benches. The House rejected by 368 to 163 the Labour amendment protesting against the inadequacy of the new unemployment allowances.

The last Government spokesman, Lieut.-Col. Anthony Muirhead, was heckled so persistently that he abandoned his effort to speak with the remark: "We commend the regulations to the House because they are good and also because under the present Government their foundations are secure."

The resolution passed and the House adjourned after thirty-four hours and eighteen minutes continuous session.—Reuters

TALK ON AIRCRAFT DURING WAR

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, July 23.

Colonel Charles and Mrs. Lindbergh's first day in Berlin as guests of the Prussian Premier, Reichs Minister for Aviation General Goering, was crowded with the eventful experience of a reception in the Reichs Air Ministry, where Secretary of State Milch received the couple and welcomed them in the name of General Goering, and ended on the Berlin aerodrome Tempelhof, where Col. Lindbergh inspected the 2, 3, and 4 engine Junkers heavy oil planes, and finally himself made an extensive flight over Berlin, plotting the great German all-metal monster plane "General-Field Marshal von Hindenburg."

A profound impression was made in Germany by the speech made by Col. Lindbergh in thanking Milch for the cordial reception given him and his wife on their arrival. After paying high tribute to Germany for its pioneer work in aerial navigation and above all to Professor Junkers, who was building all-metal planes while the others were theorizing about the respective merits of wood, calico

CHAMPIONS MUST MASTER GREEN TO WIN

Clubs Showing "End Of Season" Form

TO-DAY'S PROSPECTS REVIEWED

(BY "SHORT HEAD")

Craigengower "A's" defeat at the hands of the Civil Service Cricket Club was the talk of the town during the week, and apart from this sensation, there was also the defeat of Club de Recreio at the Taikoo Docks to be accounted for.

The Senior Champions struck a very bad patch on the day, and with the exception of A. E. Coates, none of the other players were able to find the green. On the other hand, the Civil Servants were all playing an inspired game, and no one would grudge them their victory, much less the Champions.

THE RISE OF TAIKOO

The only link to offer any opposition was Luz's four. This rink had the upper hand over J. Hollidge's four and were leading right up to tea time. There was no denying the fact that the C.C.C. four were playing as well as could be desired. Both Coates and Rosseter were rolling well, as was also Luz. A different complexion came over this match after tea when Hollidge improved enough to give Luz a close tussle, eventually winning by 23 shots to 21, being more than seven shots down at one stage.

Omar's rink went down to MacGowan's four by seven shots after leading by about four shots up to the breather. There was nothing sensational in this game, except perhaps that the homesters were able to find the green at the commencement, whereas it took the C.C.C. men quite sometime before they were able to find the right "lay of the land," and even then right up to the last head, the green was playing tricks with them. This game ended in a seven shots' victory for the home team.

Down by 17 shots at the 10th head, Basa's four improved slightly after the tea time to be able to reduce the deficit to 12 shots. The players in the loser's rink were not up to scratch, and were it not for this fact, Jones and his men would not have been able to snatch that commanding lead, much less the 12 shots' victory.

RECREIO MORE THAN SURPRISED

A meritorious victory was scored by the lowly placed Taikoo team over the Club de Recreio while playing away. Even the belated efforts of H. A. Alves's four were unable to stem the tide, and the Dockers ran out winners by 14 shots.

Both the Silvas went down in their respective rinks. N. Drummond accounting for "F.X." nicely by 26 shots to 8, while J. C. Polson was responsible for the other, "C. G." winning by 21 shots to 14. Drummond was playing with confidence when pitted against F. X. M. da Silva, and the support which his men gave him, especially from W. Wei, more often than not, thwarted the efforts of Silva, when he found himself in the "rut."

In the over game, J. E. Noronha as C. G. Silva's No. 1 played a heroic game, but lack of support robbed him of his good efforts. On the other hand, the Dockers were playing well, and right from the start struck the correct "pitch."

H. A. Alves tried his hardest to stem the flow of the tide, but found in Keown, a stubborn skip to overcome. The Portuguese rink in this instance played better bowls, and ably backed up by his other three men, Alves was able to produce a high standard of bowls. Polson's rink, not to be outdone, followed closely in their opponents' footsteps, and although Alves's rink won by 11 shots, the victory was no easy affair.

PEARSE SAVED THE DAY

And but for the masterly bowling of H. V. Pearse the C.C.C. "B" would undoubtedly have lost to the Indians on their own green. Pearse was bowling exceptionally well, and time and again brought his rink out of some very tight corners. On more than one occasion, with the Indians lying two or three, Pearse with his last delivery managed with skill and accuracy to turn defeat into credit, and in this way was able to help his rink along with a 16 shots' win, which was enough to offset the losses sustained by the other two rinks.

Clashed against Adal's four, Pearse and his men had a commanding lead at the 10th head, and although belated efforts were made to catch up with this deficit by Adal and his men, they found in Pearse and his men, their masters of the situation.

In a game where "luck" played a predominant part, A. R. Dallah's four defeated W. Gill's rink by 13 shots to 17. Gill was decidedly unlucky not to have won, as he was having the upper hand over Dallah most of the game, and when "bad joss" crept in, Dallah by dint of some heavy draws managed to snatch victory out of the jaws of defeat.

Soares was sending woods down either wide or narrow, and in this respect A. R. Abbas was playing better than him. A. H. Rumjahn was primarily responsible for his side's win. He played a very useful game, and any damage that came was from his deliveries which were well high perfect. A. M. Omar played slightly the better game against A. M. Wahab while Dallah had the luck with him in his dylets with Gill.

Minu's rink won because their skip played a brand of bowls that was peculiarly his own. Time and again when Field was lying Minu would with his drives sent the woods scattering about to claim the points. There was very little to choose between these two rinks, with perhaps Minu's rink being "favoured by the joss."

POLICE BEATEN

Beaten on two of the three rinks, Police had to bow before the onslaught of the Bowling Green whose players were in irresistible form and ran out winners by 73 shots to 56. The other rink ended in a draw between M. J. Henderson's four, and S. Logan's quartette the two rinks sharing the 44 shots between them.

The fight for the skips' record saw R. Duncan ousting W. E. Hollands from the position by the margin of only three shots. The match was a good one to watch, with first one and then the other claiming the upper hand. However, Duncan by his versatility and the good backing which he received won the day.

L. Guy and his men accounted for W. Mair's rink by 29 shots to 15. Better combination and understanding of the green won the Bowling Green's rink the day. It took the Police quite some time to find their green, and when they did find it they found they were shots behind, and the deficit was too much for them. However, some bright bowls were witnessed.

ANOTHER DEFEAT FOR THE K.C.C.

At home the K.C.C. surprisingly lost to the Kowloon Dockers by a margin of 12 shots. Fraser's rink was the only rink to be up, the other two rinks losing by 12 and 3 shots respectively. For the first 14 heads Fraser and his men were bowling much better than their opponents and had a lead of 22 shots to 6. After tea a complete change came over the game, Fraser's rink could do nothing right whereas Cullen's men struck top form to lose only by three shots. Fraser only scored one shot after tea. Cullen played very good bowls, his rest from the game seemed to do no harm to his skill. Pearson was the only other Dock player to play up to form. Fraser again played very well and before tea was well backed up by his men. Gittins was consistent right through the game.

Craig again failed at skip, being beaten by McKelvie by 12 shots. McKelvie was playing a deadly game and was responsible for some very fine shots. He was ably supported by Morrison. Phillips played a fair game at No. 1 for the K.C.C. but Overy was weak. Bebbington and Craig played well with no luck. Hyde Lay had quite a good tussle against Cooper losing by 3 shots.

Lee and Layer were the pick of the Kowloon side. Lammert and Goodwin being off. Cooper played the best game I have seen him play for some time and was given ample support by Ramsey. Altogether it was a good game to watch and the Dockers fully deserved their victory.

TO-DAY'S GAMES

The Champions to-day will have to be on the alert when playing against the Indians away. The Sookunpoo ground is known as a treacherous green, as only the homesters understand the "lay of the land," and more often than not it had spelt disaster, with a capital D, for many an away team.

On paper and form the Champions should account for the Indians, but anything can happen and will happen. There is a weakness in the Valley team, and that is their inconsistency. Three good rinks such as they have should always be able to start a game with confidence, but strange as it may seem, I believe they have won their matches on many a laurel of one rink, and that is exactly what I am afraid will happen. Unless one of the three rinks obtain a commanding lead over the Indians, their chances of snatching a victory are very remote.

The Indians play a brand of bowls that is their own. They have three skips, two of whom are drivers. This brand of the game has very often unnerved many a good skip. Perhaps playing at home will give the Indians just that bit of confidence which may be the turning point in the game.

POLICE SHOULD WIN

The Civil Servants, despite their sensational win over the Champions last week, I am afraid will fall by the way side to-day against the Police. Strange as it may seem, they have three skips that are only of mediocre standard, yet when it comes to the big occasion they will rise to it. By dropping A. W. Grimmitt this week, Jones's rink will lose part of their strength, as the inclusion of Grimmitt last week in this rink spelt "victory" for them.

W. E. Hollands and his men can be depended upon to do their best, while Stewart Logan has improved a great deal since teaming up with the senior twelve. In Mair, the Police have a steady skip and between the three of them they should be able to garner the necessary shots for the two points. The facts, however, must not be overlooked that the Civil Servants can always be relied upon to do their stuff, and come what may, the game should be a close one with the Police having just the edge over the Civil Servants.

TAIKOO'S CHANCES

Taikoo has improved by leaps and bound since their win over the Kowloon Dock, and their victory over the Recreio last week speaks for itself. Pitted again the Bowling Green to-day at home, they should be able to give a good account of themselves, and unless they suffer from that inferiority complex they should be able to show the Bowling Green a thing or two about the game.

N. Drummond and Chalmers have both improved to a great extent, and are these days playing with more confidence than usual, while J. Polson too is playing better than ever. The Bowling Green

SEMI-FINAL DRAW

Open Lawn Bowls Championship

TWO CLUBMATES MEET

The draw for the semi-final round of the Open Championship of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association took place yesterday, and resulted as follows:—

A. E. Coates (C.C.C.) v. A. W. Grimmitt (C.S.C.) on Monday, July 27 at H.K.F.C. green.
H. A. Alves (C. de Recreio) v. L. A. Gutierrez (C. de Recreio) on Thursday, July 30, at K.D.R.C. green.

Mr. J. Russell was appointed umpire for the first game, and Mr. J. V. Ramsey for the game on Thursday.

No fewer than three of the semi-finalists this year have figured in the finals of the Open Championship. A. W. Grimmitt won the coveted title in 1934 when he established an unequalled record by being in the finals of all the important titles of that year. L. A. Gutierrez annexed the Championship in 1932, while H. A. Alves was runners-up last year. A. E. Coates is the only one making his initial appearance in the semi-finals, and has played remarkably well to earn the right.

On the other hand have three well tried and seasoned skip, and it will take the Taikoo more than just nerve to unseat them. However, bowls can rightly be said to be a game of chance, and as such anything can happen. The Bowling Green should win.

Grand Challenge Match

R. W. F. & EAST LANCES BOYS v. R. U. R. BOYS

The combined team of East Lances and R. W. F. Boys met the R. U. R. Boys at the Hankow Barracks on Thursday afternoon. There was a large crowd present as it was generally known that the undefeated record of the R. U. R. Boys was at stake, as their opponents were a very hefty side in comparison to them.

The teams lined up as follows: East Lances and R. W. F. Boys—Griffiths (R.W.F.), Pritchards (R.W.F.), Walsh (E. Lances), Naigh-lor (E. Lances), Taylor (R.W.F.), Davies (R.W.F.), Gregory (R.W.F.), Wheeler (R.W.F.), Sexton (E. Lances), Larolner (E. Lances), Stone (R.W.F.).

R. U. R. Boys—Tindall, Birrell, Edwards, Ingoll, Allen, Parker, Turton, Alwood, Lewis, Godney, Swinfield.

Lewis kicked off against a fair breeze, and it was not long before his forwards tested Griffiths, but he fielded well. There was a good deal of long kicking at this stage, a free kick against the home team brought danger towards Griffiths, and from Allen's placing he had to look lively to get it out of the danger zone. Lewis led his line well and, in sustained pressure he had hard luck when his shot just grazed the upright with Griffiths out of position. So far it was all R. U. R. pressure, but Taylor relieved it at last, and sent his forwards away on the right per Gregory and Wheeler but the latter missed when well placed.

ALLEN PROMINENT
Allen was proving himself a tower of strength for the visitors and on more than one occasion he had his forward going great guns only to see bad finishing ruin their chances. Walsh was proving himself a rare defender for the home side and time and again he frustrated all their attempts by keen tackling and kicking. Now came the first real thrill of the game when Godney got possession in his own half and went away on a solo run, outwitted the home defence and finished with a wonderful drive which gave Griffiths no chance.

The home team now took matters in hand and after Taylor had bested Lewis in a heading duel he flashed it out to Stone who in turn sent over to the opposite wing, and Wheeler cleverly taking the ball on the run obtained the equaliser.

Lewis in recentreing the ball tapped it to Godney who deliberately wormed his way through the home team's defence to give his side the lead, not one of the home team touched the ball since it was centred till it rested in the net.

This great feat on the visitors part seemed to inspire them and only the great work of Walsh prevented a further score.

A WEAKNESS
There was a noted weakness in the home team's halves and though their tackling was good their placing was inaccurate, as their forwards had to roam a lot to obtain the ball. From a long clearance of Pritchard's, Sexton got possession and cleverly beating Allen, he sent out to Stone who shot hard and Tindall had to fully extend himself to push it round the post for a corner, which resulted in a scrimmage, Gregory finally putting it past.

Play at this stage seemed to slow down and although the home team were not playing hard, their forwards never really got going against Birrell and Edwards who were kicking and tackling with great accuracy. The play was now confined to mid-field till half time, the teams turning round with the scores standing: R. U. R. Boys 2 goals, R. W. F. and E. Lances 1 goal.

The opening item of interest was a free kick against R. U. R. for a foul on Wheeler, but this was cleared and R. U. R. got away on the left per Swinfield and Godney, the former being unable to control the ball at a critical moment. Considering the heat play began to get very fast, Lewis railed on his own without result, and Sexton was as quickly and as unsuccessfully at the other end. Gregory worried his way into position and sent to Larolner but the latter was crowded out. The pace slowed down a little but was still fast

Kowloon Dock and the Club de Recreio are at present playing that brand of haphazard bowls, which so much resembles the "end of the season kind." Both teams have not been up to the scratch and although the Portuguese have been playing much below their past form they should be able to account for the "Dockers."

There is trouble ahead in the K.C.C. camp, if according to the changes which I noticed in their line up are correct. They are another team that have been in the doldrums of late, and unless they wake up from this lethargy, their match with the C.C.C. "B" will mean another two points for the home team.

The Valley lads are playing as well as ever. In fact, so much so that the winners of one rink very often offset the losses in the other two. I see that W. K. Way is back again as skip, and their hero of last week's game, H. V. Pearce has been taken on as No. 3 to Field's rink. Frankly speaking, I would much rather see Pearce skip than Way, as Pearce is just that sort of a temperamental player to do damage.

The game is being played on the Valley Green, and unless the Cricketers can come out of their present apathy they will not be much of an opposition to the Valley team.

THE TEAMS

The following are some of the probable line-up:

First Division

INDIAN R. C. v. CRAIGENGOWER

Indian R.C.—D. M. Khan, S. M. Rumjahn, A. K. Minu, M. Y. Adul (skip); M. R. Abbas, A. H. Rumjahn, A. M. Wahab, A. R. Dallah (skip); J. Hoosen, A. Bakar, A. O. Madar, A. R. Minu (skip).

enough, Sexton fastened on to a Stone's cross and sent right across R. U. R.'s goal but Wheeler failed to get in on time.

A CLOSE CALL

There was a close call when Godney just shot over from a corner kick, and immediately after it Swinfield handled the ball on the goal line when he could have chested it through. Play veered to the visitors right wing and Turton had a run up the wing and passed it neatly to Godney who gave Griffiths a chance to show his abilities which he did well. Lewis fastened on to a pass of Allen's and combining well with Godney he gave the defence a hot time of it.

R. U. R. were now at this stage dominating play and pressure was bound to get good results, as after Lewis and Godney had co-operated in a "James and Bastin movement" Godney went on to obtain his third goal and hat-trick.

The next item of interest was a fine piece of constructive work of Allen's and his wonderful ground pass to Lewis who shot hard and true, only to see Griffiths bring off a marvellous save.

Gregory got away on the right and sent to Wheeler who in turn passed to Stone, the latter tricking several opponents before sending a great drive which Tindall had to rise to. Gregory was playing a very hard game, but all his clever passes came to no avail.

The visitors now took up the running and after Parker had lobbed into the goal-mouth Godney sent in a smashing drive which Griffiths did well to punch over the crossbar. From the resultant kick Lewis tricked Walsh and sent to Turton who just appeared to be too slow in picking it up, and Walsh had no difficulty in clearing.

R. U. R. were now apparently satisfied with their lead and resorted to playing the Scottish type of football which delighted the crowd, and Lewis and Godney were combining like veterans, this particular type of football appeared to get the home defence rattled and the backs were kicking wildly, the result being that their forwards had to drop back to defence.

From now until full time R. U. R. dominated play and appeared to be a well trained team, showing fine understanding throughout the game, the final whistle sounded with the scores standing at three goals to one in favour of the R. U. R. Boys.

At the conclusion of the game both teams and officials were entertained in that spacious and well decorated dining hall of H. V. Wing, R. W. F., everyone present voting that more matches of this description would be very welcome. A return game will be arranged at a later date.

ATHLETES FROM CHINA

Great Welcome In Berlin

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, July 23.
Quite an hour before the arrival of the special train from Venice an immense crowd had gathered round the Anhalter Bahnhof to witness the arrival of China's Olympic team and extend a welcome worthy of the Reich's Capital. On the platform itself, which was decorated with tastefully arrayed garlands and greenery, and with the Chinese flag, a large part of the Chinese community in Berlin, headed by H. E. Dr. Chen Tien Fang, the Chinese Ambassador in Berlin were drawn up to receive the Olympic sportsmen.

Among the representatives of German authorities were Colonel von und zu Gilsa, Commandant of the Olympic Village, Dr. Lewald, President of the Olympic Organising Committee. The Military band, which had been playing martial tunes till the train arrived, struck up the Chinese National Anthem, when the team, consisting of 140 sportsmen, trainers, masseurs and 29 Chinese descended from the train. The speech making on the platform was brief, consisting merely of a few words of hearty welcome from Gilsa, and an appreciative answer from the Chinese manager, William Sung.

Omnibuses were waiting outside to convey the team to the Rathaus, the visitors driving through the streets packed with spectators, turning on them smiling faces and waving hands in welcome.

At the Rathaus the Lord Mayor, Dr. Lippert welcomed the guests on behalf of the town of Berlin, emphasising the fact that though China was a late comer in sport, it has a thousand year tradition of physical culture to build upon.

Finally the whole team was driven to the Olympic Village, where they were officially received by the Commandant, the Chinese National Anthem being played, as German Blue Jackets slowly hoisted the Chinese flag into its Sung told a Transocean representative that though they had known that they would be cordially received, the actual reception had far exceeded anything they had ever expected.

Sung said that even if China brought home no laurels, her team would acquire itself honourably, and learn much for the next Olympiad.

FILM PRAISED BY VETERAN

Mr. Deeds Goes To Town

Coming from a veteran stage and screen actor like H. B. Warner, the references to the script of Columbia's new Frank Capra picture, "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," as "the best I have ever read" is an exceptional compliment, and one that Robert Riskin, who wrote it, and Clarence Budington Kelland, on whose story it was based, no doubt sincerely appreciate.

Warner plays a featured role in the picture, which opens on Sunday at the Alhambra Theatre with Gary Cooper in the stellar role, Jean Arthur playing opposite him, and George Bancroft, Lionel Stander, Douglas Dumbrille, Raymond Walburn and Mme. Margaret Matzenauer enacting important parts.

Many scripts of plays and photographs have passed through the hands of H. B. Warner since he started his theatrical career in London as a youth. He gave up an original ambition to become a surgeon—after studying at University College—to add his name to that of his father and sister on the English stage, because he could not resist the contagion that surrounded it.

In 1906 Warner made his debut on America's Broadway. Some of Warner's important screen appearances have been in "King of Kings," "Trial of Mary Dugan," "The Late Christopher Bean," "Son-Daughter" and "Sorel and Son," in which he was especially triumphant. Hence, with all these years of acting behind him, in great stage and screen successes, his bouquet to Director Capra, Scenarist Riskin and Author Kelland for the script of "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" seems praise indeed.

Less Burdensome Mining Tax Proposed

Messrs. Harriman & Co. have received the following cable from Mr. John Hair, Chairman of the Manila stock exchange:—"The evening paper reports that Governor Quezon is against the proposed graduate mining tax. He proposes to substitute a less burdensome one." This refers to the following previously proposed mining tax:

If the proposed new taxation on the mining industry becomes a law, the government will receive considerably more than P4,000,000 from the mining companies—or more than three times the total taxes paid by the industry last year.

The tax is based on a progressive scale, starting with 2 per cent on gross annual production of not over P250,000 and going up to 24 per cent on productions of about P20,000,000.

The bill was prepared by the committee on ways and means, and is now under discussion. While it may not become law, it is of interest because it shows the trend of the legislators.

The explanatory note to the bill reads:

THE OBJECT

"The object of the attached bill amending sections 1534 and 1535 of the Administrative Code and providing for progressive rates of taxes on the output of gold silver and chromite mines in the same manner as the progressive rates of the additional income tax provided for in the Income Tax Law is to enable the government to secure repayment for the depletion of its natural resources. The exploitation of mines, especially gold mines, has come to be a very profitable industry. The progressive rates proposed will not, however, discourage new companies from engaging in the gold mining business as the rate applicable to a new company which will just embark in the mining venture is the same as the rate of tax now in force. It is estimated that an additional revenue of P2,000,000.00 may be derived annually from this source."

The additional revenue will be considerably more than P2,000,000.00 as can be seen by a rough estimate of what the various companies would have to pay under such law.

The following table is based on a conservative estimate of production for 1935. The output of each company for the first six months was doubled, and the result made into a convenient round number.

ANTAMOK GOLDFIELDS

Antamok Goldfields was incorporated for P15,000,000, of which P1,375,000 was paid in. The board of directors consists of Andres Soriano, President, A. D. Goodliffe, T. J. Wolff, Benito Razon, Col. F. Hodsell, J. H. Sampson, E. Roxas, B. Razon and Z. A. Perkins. The company estimated its ore reserves as of January 1, at 144,128 tons, valued at P4,576,876. Profits during 1935 were P167,634. The new plant was running early this year, and will have a capacity of 250 tons a day by October.

K. M. Stewart is general superintendent at I. X. L.

SAFETY

SERVICE

Uneasiness about the safety or the spendability of your funds need not mar your journey if you are carrying them in the form of American Express Travelers Cheques, as you are protected by the refund feature in case of loss or theft.

And in Addition—each American Express Travelers Cheque or Letter of Credit is an introduction to American Express travel offices throughout the world—little oases away from home where the traveler meets fellow travelers, gets his mail, and finds helpful guidance in unfamiliar places. After where these Cheques are bought, whoever buys them is entitled to all American Express facilities. In addition to protecting the funds of travelers, American Express service makes journeys more pleasant and carefree through its uniformed interpreters and through its international corps of trained travel men.
